

PLANNED ACTIVITIES ORGANIZED BY THE UNESCO CHAIR ON ANTICIPATION AND RESILIENCE, SARAS, URUGUAY. AGORA C (December 10-12)

- Thursday 10th December, 08:00 – 10:00 "Anticipation and adaptation as a challenge in decision-making and collective action for Climate Change."

In this conversation we will address some of the contributions than an anticipatory systems approach can make to decision-making and adaptation policies in the context of Climate Change. Open. In Spanish with English translation.

Ramiro Rama, Chief of Cambio Climático, Fundación Avina; Lydia Garrido Luzardo, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS; Néstor Mazzeo, Executive Director, Instituto SARAS.

ZOOM Link: <https://zoom.us/j/96710096524?pwd=R251NIJERGNGWQ1pZYTbhZIRPSzNhZz09>

- Thursday 10th December, 10:30 – 12:30 "Anticipatory Governance: Dilemmas and Challenges. Learnings from territories"

Within the framework of the Tri- Nations Project "GovernAgua: Transforming water governance in South America: from reaction to adaptation and anticipation", will be discussing a double challenge, on one hand, generating transdisciplinary knowledge about a boundary objective, such as water governance, and secondly, introducing a frame time that does not exist yet: the future. In an exchange of experiences between members of the research team, some advances will be shared on the application of the conceptual-heuristic framework based on FLF (UNESCO) Open. In Spanish with English translation.

Lara Mac Donnell, Universidad Tecnológica Nacional, Argentina; Miguel Pascual, IPEEC- CONICET- CENPAT; Lydia Garrido Luzardo, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS; Néstor Mazzeo, Executive Director, Instituto SARAS.

ZOOM Link: <https://zoom.us/j/94450852588?pwd=YjBVT2hFeEQ3bmpsY1lGWwZ3N0J1Zz09>

- Thursday, December 10th, 4:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. "Gender and security perspective in Latin America: How imaginaries influence our perception of the present and our actions to the future."

Workshop in collaboration with the Institute of Security, Gender and Development (SGDI). Within the framework of the Women, Peace and Security Agenda (UN, Security Council) the greatest efforts are currently under implementation of such considerations on national and subnational agendas. This workshop, with the participation of the S&T Institute of the Peruvian Army, explores the points of support to transform the future into the intersection of security and the gender perspective in the Latin American context. By invitation. Spanish. Register if you are interested in conducting a similar workshop at your institution.

Main Facilitators: Mónica Mendez, SGDI; Cecilia Palomo and Lydia Garrido, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS.

ZOOM Link éste: <https://forms.gle/SA8RkPwTDroGH7G89>

- Thursday, December 10th, 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. "Circular Economy: Transforming Waste: What If There Was No Food Loss and Waste?"

According to FAO Reports, one-third of the world's food is lost or wasted before it is consumed, this takes place across the chain, from initial agricultural production to final household consumption. In an agile interaction between the guests of this conversation - actors and institutions that are working with this problem and challenge - we will seek to identify synergies, anticipatory actions and transformative potentials through coordinated efforts. Open activity, upon registration, in Spanish.

Guests: Carmen Sanguinetti, Senator of the Republic; Vicente Plata, FAO Uruguay; Dolores Battro, Food Bank of Uruguay; Ady Beitler, NILUS, Argentina; Bambou Pittaluga; Yamandú Plada Thompson, REDALCO.

Moderators: Constanza Bourdieu and Lydia Garrido, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS.

ZOOM Link: <https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZlkf-CqrjwqE909Bd46Vk99DfAgZ0Xludch>

- Friday, December 11th, 10:00 to 12:00. "Futures Commission. Anticipation in public policy. How UNESCO's Future Literacy approach can provide decision-makers with a framing and operative tool"

Within the framework of the Futures Commission at the National Parliament, civil servants from different government offices reflect on the importance of integrating the future into the development and analysis of issues of national interest. It will seek to differentiate various 'uses of the future' in decision-making and the relevance of anticipation as an action to generate conditions for transformation in the present. Open activity, upon registration, in Spanish.

Vice President of the República Oriental del Uruguay Beatriz Argimón, Director of the UNESCO Regional Office for Science in Latin America Lidia Brito, Minister of Labor Pablo Mieres, Deputy Minister of Environment Gerardo Amarilla, Director of Institute of Vocational Training Pablo Darsch, National Representative, Coordinator of the Futures Commission of the Parliament Rodrigo Goñi, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS, Lydia Garrido.

ZOOM Link: https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZAof-2hqTMsH9cEC3S4_ERaBXvjHgdIWWlk

- Friday, December 11th, 5:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. "Anticipation in decision-making at the public policy level in Latin America."

Colloquium in collaboration with the Universidad del Externado, Colombia. A broad panel will discuss experiences, challenges and opportunities in 'using the future' to strengthen anticipatory decision-making capabilities in public policy. We will introduce as a provocation a reflection on how to foster experiences of anticipatory governance. Open activity, Spanish.

Francisco José Mojica, Director Centro de Pensamiento Estratégico y Prospectiva, UE; Lydia Garrido, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS.

ZOOM Link <https://uexternado.zoom.us/j/81939180237>

- Saturday, December 12th, 10:00 to 12:00. Workshop. Transformative learning practices in educational centers. Future literacy capacities and competencies approach (111)

A theoretical and heuristic framework developed based on FL and applied to learning and change processes. You will attend direct testimonies and dialogues between peer directors of initial, primary and secondary education in the context of Covid19 from Uruguay. Novel experiences sustained by teaching teams, hybrid pairs classes (face-to-face-virtual), face-to-face and virtual students simultaneously, cycle projects integrating different levels and teachers, student innovation projects, new roles and transformative learning of organizational cultures. Open activity, in Spanish.

Lidia Barboza Norbis, Postgrade in Education, Montevideo University; Lydia Garrido Luzardo, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS

ZOOM Link <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/9631983428?pwd=ejlSeHRxcjBWTXI3dVF0czVpY2RYQT0>

- Saturday 12th December, 16:30 – 19:00. "Gender Security Policies: An Orchestra of Diverse Voices."

Workshop co-designed and co-facilitated with the Institute of Security, Gender and Development (SGDI) Limited number of participants interested in the field of security and development with a gender perspective. During the workshop you will be experiencing different "uses of the future" to see the present differently. Mexico. Spanish.

Main Facilitators: Mónica Mendez, SGDI; Cecilia Palomo and Lydia Garrido, UNESCO Chair on Sociocultural Anticipation and Resilience, SARAS.

<https://forms.gle/SQtyNmaqXTnsWLPe7>